"People's party" candidates whose names will appear on the ballots on election day, Tuesday, April 3, include the following:

Fat Salvage Program Has Medical Importance

Lake county's 33,637 families can fill an entire day's medicinal needs of 12,614 battlefront casualties if each home will save one tablespoon of waste kitchen fat, it was estimated today by the nation's largest single collector of this vital war material.

"There are few direct ways a wife, mother or daughter can help safeguard the life of a loved one at the fighting front, and salvaging used fats is one of them," said T. A. Connors, head of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company's national meat department. "The value of the 9,128,000 pounds salvaged by our customers throughout the nation last year is evident in the fact that a single pound of fat will process about 260 quarts of life-giving blood plasma."

The increased tempo of the war has intensified the need for drugs, ointment and acids to ease pain and lessen mortality among our soldiers as well as for synthetic rubber, protective coatings and other vital war materials in which waste fats figure, Connors pointed out. Further, he said, the OPA has continued its offer of red grease points for each pound of grease turned in at stores.

"The importance of used fats in the manufacture of the implements of war and of thousands of products for the home front is widely recognized," he said. "But little is known of the miracles being worked by military medicine with the aid of converted fats. Lake County women, in making their contributions to this salvage drive, may take added satisfaction from the knowledge that even a tablespoon, or half ounce, of used fat will help make enough smallpox vaccine for 75 infections."

Other vital medication for which household fats are required includes tannic acid used in treatment of burns, some insulins for shock victims, tinctures of opium and gentian to ease pain, sulfadiazine ointments for treating abrasions and fungus growths, and nitro-glycerine tablets as a heart stimulant.

Injuries, Illness Keep Rescue Squad Occupied

An injured knee was suffered by Mrs. R. D. Williams when she slipped and fell on the floor of her kitchen Friday morning. The Rescue squad was called at 8:45 a. m. and removed her to Victory Memorial hospital.

Three children of the Craun family at the intersection of route 45 and highway 173 were removed to St. Therese hospital for treatment for pneumonia last Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock. One of the children had previously been in the hospital with pneumonia, but had been believed somewhat recovered and had been brought home.

A special reserved seat section is to be arranged for the relatives of servicemen. However, there will be no charge of any kind for anyone attending the program.

Antioch Firemen Kept Busy During Week-end

Six calls provided a busy time for Antioch firemen during the weekend. They included a fire in a house on Indian point Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and another call Saturday evening to the "old Garwood house" on Channel Lake road. The Garwood place, which was unoccupied, had been damaged by a roof fire two years ago. Saturday night's blaze completed its destruction.

The call in the afternoon at 2:27 was to a cottage at Indian Point owned by Robert Field of Oak Park. The building and its contents were a total loss.

Calls Sunday were for a fire in a chicken house at Dr. G. W. Jensen's place on Highway 21 Sunday morning at 11 o'clock; for grass fires—at Loon Lake at 3 p. m., at the state line at 3:34 p. m., and at Loon Lake again at 4:20 p. m.

A fine gallery of spectators cheered the fire ladders on as they passed down Main street Monday morning at 11:30 o'clock to answer another summons, for a grass fire in Shunnesson's subdivision, Grass Lake. At 12 o'clock another grass fire alarm was turned in, from Oetting's subdivision on the north side of Channel lake.

Twenty-five Antioch Girl Scouts visited the fire station and heard talks by L. R. Van Patten, fire chief, and William Baned of the Antioch Rescue squad Wednesday afternoon.

No classes will be held at Antioch Township High school on Good Friday, March 30. School will be dismissed Thursday evening, March 29, and will be resumed Monday morning, April 2, T. R. Birkhead, principal, announces.

"Victory Garden Week" Proclaimed April 1-7

The first week of April has been designated by Governor Dwight H. Green as Victory Garden Week throughout Illinois.

"Practically all the foods that were being sold ration-free last summer are now back on the ration list," the Governor's proclamation said. "The United States Department of Agriculture forecasts the increasing use of American foods for foreign relief, a strong civilian demand for food, and continuing heavy military food requirements. All the signs of the times point to the necessity for the largest possible production of foodstuffs this season."

"We are fortunate in Illinois, for our rich soil and favoring climate give gratifying rewards to agricultural activities. Our Victory gardens of former seasons did much to maintain our health and well-being. Now patriotism and practical self-interest alike indicate the desirability of raising even bigger and better gardens this year."

Former County Auditor Dies in Pontiac, Mich.

Report on Pumps Given to Village Board at Meeting

Both Pumps Are in Good Condition, Field Service Engineer Says

Although one of Antioch's deep well pumps has been in operation for 14 years and the other for 8 years, both are still in good working order, Morris O. Nelson, field service engineer of the J. P. Miller Artesian Well company of Brookfield, Ill., and Milwaukee, Wis., told the Antioch village council at a recessed meeting last Wednesday evening.

Nelson stated that this was attributable to purity of the water and to its freedom from fine sand.

He gave it as his opinion that no major repairs should be necessary at this time, but at the request of the board he listed replacement parts which it would be advisable to have on hand in order to provide for emergencies, and the purchase of these parts was voted.

A board of judges and clerks for the village elections April 17 was appointed by President George B. Bartlett and confirmed by the council.

It includes as judges Mrs. Leona Petersen, Mrs. Helen Nelson, J. C. James; as clerks, Mrs. Lillian Hand, Mrs. Bertha Burnette and Mrs. Lucille La Plant.

A resolution was passed to seek the approval of the state highway department for the creation of a new arterial street consisting of Chestnut street commencing at Route 21, and proceeding via Bishop street back to 21 at Ida avenue.

Red Cross Drive Fund Mounts as Close Approaches

With the end of Antioch Township's annual Red Cross drive drawing near, encouraging reports were being turned in by all committee workers, Roman B. Vos, chairman, announced this week.

"We have every reason to believe that the township will go over the top in this campaign, exceeding its quota of $2,500," said Vos.

"People have been responding generously, apparently realizing that the need now is greater than it yet has been."

More than $2,000 had been turned in as the News went to press today, a check-up by Vos revealed. He and co-chairmen for the drives, Mrs. Martha Rosing and Miss Marguerite Grice, expressed appreciation for the generous response on the part of the public.

Lake Villa Report Good Lake Villa township, where William M. Weber is chairman for the drive, also reported a better-than-usual response, with more than half its quota of $1,500 already collected by the first part of this week.

The Antioch and Lakes theaters are both co-operating with the drive throughout this week. Members of the Boy Scout and Girl Scout troops are in charge of the collections between shows.

Red Cross Achievements Praised by Gov. Green

Governor Dwight H. Green praised the service being rendered to state and nation by Red Cross volunteer workers, after receiving reports from 125 Illinois chapters of the American Red Cross.

Last year the state's Red Cross chapters collected 249,420 pints of blood for use on the battle fronts, produced 53,360,579 surgical dressings for the army and navy medical corps, and assisted 285,000 service men, veterans, and their families.

"I am particularly proud of the record set by our school children in Red Cross services," the Governor declared. "The 1,024,004 Junior Red Cross members in 8,678 Illinois schools produced over 266,120 articles for service men and for needy children in war-torn lands. At the same time, they completed courses in home nursing, first aid, water safety and nutrition which added to their ability to contribute to community and family health and well-being."

Mrs. William Malek of Indian Point spent Monday in Chicago.

The Perennial Gardener

One of the funny things about Victory gardening, or any other kind of gardening, is that it grows on you. We know lots of people who said last fall—"I'm not going to bother with a garden again next year."

This spring they're all saying, "We're going to plant a bigger garden this year. We want to try this, and we want to try that—and we want to do a lot more canning. Those jars in the cellar certainly came in handy this winter!"

When we drop in to call, we see packages of seeds on their hall tables—if they are lucky enough to have space for halls and tables, with the housing situation being what it is, some places.

And as far as we've been able to discover, the seed catalogues and gardening manuals are pretty popular, and we hear quite a bit of talk about "ordering plants early," or "starting some stuff in a cold-frame and transplanting it."

We haven't had the heart to remind some of them about how much work they said gardening was, last fall. Looks to us just about like the farmers—they're always threatening to go into something easier—and when spring comes, they're right out there plowing.

There must be some primeval pleasure in working with the soil and seeing things grow. At any rate, it looks as though there are going to be lots of home-grown vegetables this year, and the old garden hoes are going to get a real work-out.

"Leave 'Em Alone!"

We read, the other day, in a quotation from a servicemen's paper, what seemed to us to be about the first sensible article we'd seen with regard to the way in which servicemen should be treated.

While we forget the exact wording, its general theme was that the man who is coming back from service with the armed forces is still pretty much the same man who went in, with due allowance, of course, for time, training, experiences, illness or injury.

It pointed out that men have come back from wars in the past to take up their former lives where they left off, and that the problem of "readjustment" now being so enthusiastically tackled in magazine and newspaper articles is not really anything so very new.

Reading these articles, it commented, is sometimes downright exasperating to men in the service as well as to veterans who have received their honorable discharges. It sometimes looks to them as though it's going to be almost too much to face the hazards of peace as well as the hazards of war.

They don't want to be psychoanalyzed by a bunch of pussy-footing amateur psychologists. They just want to get the war over, and get home, get some rest and get busy. And most of them figure that if old "Mr.

Whiskers," as they sometimes refer to Uncle Sam, is confident that they are equal to standing the stresses of war, they certainly ought to hold up pretty well, in the main, under the stresses of peace.

They're not two-year-olds. They're grown men. They'll want kindness, affection, sympathy—and respect. They'll also want to do some of their own worrying. At times some of them may need some help. There are few people who do not, at some time or another, during the course of their lives.

But we can't say that we blame them for resenting some of the (no doubt well-meant) articles advising families on how to treat their returned veterans.

If we were a returned veteran, we'd resent 'em, too. We'd resent 'em lots....if we weren't too busy laughing.

So let's take it easy on our attitude toward the boys who are coming back from overseas. Just remember—they're not strange monsters—they're human, too!

Some of our mistakes may be due to our own self-consciousness, or to our over-eagerness to help, without quite knowing how. But by-and-large, perhaps just time itself, together with the pleasure of being home, may do more than all our conscious efforts ever could.

A County is No Better Than Its People

Until a man can earn a fair living, he can contribute little besides his own integrity and friendliness toward improving his county. Civilization's graces grow on what people earn and produce. Yet neither seven nor even seventy dollars a day can guarantee that the boy will then be a good citizen. Sensible education, the examples of his neighbors in the right kind of community, may inspire him to be a better one. A county is people. A solid gold court-house and fifty silver-plated libraries and hospitals will not make a county any better than its people. If anyone has a formula that has already made a perfect county, I would rejoice to report it.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Adding another War Bond to your collection, eh, Judge?"

"Yes, Josh, I've always looked upon buying Bonds as one of the best ways older folks like me here at home can help our fighting men overseas. For the past couple of years I've put every extra cent I had into them... not only during the War Bond drives... but on a regular basis. Of course, when there's a drive on I always try to buy an extra one or two."

"We've done the same in our family, too, Judge. We figure the more we buy... the better we equip our men... the quicker they'll finish their big job and come marching home again."

"That's the spirit, Josh. And let's be sure of one more thing. Let's be sure that they come back to the same kind of place they left. While they are away and can't express their opinions, let's not make any decisions on things that are going to concern them in years to come."

George Whites Move to New Home Near Hebron

Mr. and Mrs. George White moved last Thursday evening from the family homestead south of Bean Hill school to their new farm, consisting of 100 acres three miles north of Hebron, which they purchased recently from Walter Eubele, Burlington, Wis.

Their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Homer White, will operate the home place, which was home-stayed by their ancestor, George White, when he came to this country from Scotland in 1845.

Besides having been in the family continuously for 100 years, the White homestead has another claim to fame in that the water from the two sides of the barn rock runs, respectively, into the Great Lakes and the Mississippi watersheds. The water from the east side drains into the Des Plaines river, and that from the west side into Loon lake. Water from the marsh near Bean Hill school also drains into both watersheds.

Emil Hall was assisted last week with some of the repair and redecorating work being done by Mr. and Mrs. White on their new home.

"QUEEN WAS IN THE KITCHEN" REVIEWED FOR WOMAN'S CLUB

Proving once again that material for a story is where you find it, was McVicar's "The Queen Was in the Kitchen," which Mrs. Harry Hoppe of Chicago reviewed for the Antioch Woman's club Monday afternoon. The story deals with a series of domestic helpers who marched into and out of the author's household.

This was a return engagement for Mrs. Hoppe, who had appeared before the club before, and was again warmly received on this occasion.

Mrs. Helen Carlson, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Nina Mathisen, sang "The Song of Peace," "Little Sleepy Head" and "Bless This House." Mrs. Maurice Radtke gave a foreword to the program, which had as its central theme, "Home."

During the business session of the meeting, which was held in Mrs. Trieger's home, Mrs. John Brogan appointed a nominating committee to select a slate of officers for the annual election meeting.

Mrs. Harry J. Krueger and Mrs. Frank Powles were assisting hostesses.

Next Sunday, March 25, is Palm Sunday. The service at Antioch Methodist Church will be unique in the annals of Palm Sunday. Two memorials will be dedicated to citizens of our community who have recently been promoted by the Supreme Architect of the Universe. One will be a Baptismal Font presented by Mrs. Margaret Gaston and family in memory of Homer Byron Gaston, their husband and father, who passed away Nov. 16, 1943. The other a Floral Urn, the gift of the community in memory of Rev. Samuel E. Pollock who passed away Feb. 12, 1944.

Baptism of children will also be a part of the service. Those desiring to participate in this, please arrange with the pastor.

From Palm Sunday to Easter there will be services at 8:00 o'clock each evening except Saturday. On Good Friday evening we will have our annual Lighted Cross Communion Service, to which all are invited.

EGGS! EGGS! EGGS!

The Methodist church of Antioch is again asking for contributions of eggs as an Easter offering to Wesley Memorial hospital. Our asking this year is for six cases—180 dozen. This will be a very real contribution to our war-rehabilitation work, as a large portion of Wesley hospital is given over for the exclusive use of service men and their families. Bring your offering to the church Easter Sunday morning or to the parsonage at 413 Lake street as near that date as possible.

Warren C. Henslee, Minister.

"EVALUATE CAPABILITIES IN CHOOSING VOCATION," DR. SPEER TELLS P. T. A.

Most persons let chance determine their vocations, Dr. George S. Speer, dean of the Y. M. C. A. college, Chicago, told members of the Antioch Township High School Parent Teacher association at their meeting Monday evening in the school.

Dr. Speer recommended that in the choice of a vocation a person's capabilities, inclinations and interests be evaluated and taken into account. He also urged that a person choosing a vocation give some thought to the pleasure the work is likely to afford him.

A social hour was enjoyed after the talk.

Library News

Few books about the war have carried suspense to the peak reached by Glenway Wescott in his novel, "Apartment in Athens." The terror visited on occupied Greece is vividly told in the story of one family and the German officer quartered with them.

"Lusty Wind for Carolina," by Ingalls Fletcher, is a stormy love story of colonial days. Pirates add an extra dash of romance to a novel as lusty as its title.

John Gunther turns to fiction in his new book, "The Troubled Midnight." He pictures the effect of war in the then neutral city of Constantinople.

The story of Jack London, novelist, adventurer and revolutionist is ably told by Irving Stone in "Sailor on Horseback."

Mystery story fans will like "Wings of Fear," by Eberhardt, and "Orchids to Murder," by Footner.

MRS. J. C. JAMES IS HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

ASTRP ANNOUNCES ARMY COLLEGE TRAINING PLANS

An opportunity for young men 17 years old to qualify for college training at the expense of the army was announced today by army officials.

The college training, given under the Army Specialized Training Reserve program, will be open to eligible young men who successfully complete a special examination to be given at high schools and colleges on April 12, according to Lt. Col. Ridgway P. Smith, commanding officer of District 3 (Illinois and northern Indiana) of the Sixth Service command.

School officials already have received information about examination, Col. Smith said. The test will be open to young men who are high school graduates and those who have completed successfully one term of college work. In order to qualify they must have been born after Sept. 30, 1927, and before Sept. 1, 1928.

Other requirements are that each young man must be physically fit and able to pass a thorough physical examination; he must be a citizen of the United States; he must have written consent from a parent or guardian approving his request for enlistment in the Enlisted Reserve corps and for assignment with the ASTRP. Written evidence of high school graduation or a term of college work is required.

Men who successfully complete the examination Apr. 12 will be sworn into the Enlisted Reserve corps within the next few months and will be assigned to a college for the term beginning July, August or September. If possible they will be sent to a college or university near their homes, usually within the Sixth Service command (Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and northern Indiana.)

Students enlisted for this program will not be called to active duty until after the end of the term in which they become 18 years old, Col. Smith said. In the meantime, he explained, depending on their age, they will be able to take two, three or four twelve-week terms of college work at the expense of the army.

The army furnishes transportation to the college or university, housing, messing, tuition, books, medical care and complete uniforms while the student is attending college. It is estimated that the education received under this program saves parents an average of $1,000.

ADDITIONAL NAVY CHAPLAINS SOUGHT

The following request has been received from the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, Board of Trade building, Chicago:

"My Dear Editor:

"In order to aid the Navy in its urgent Chaplain Procurement program, the Wrigley company's 'The First Line' radio show on Thursday night, March 22, will feature the deeds of Navy chaplains. I will appreciate your informing your readers of this broadcast, which will be heard over WBBM, Chicago, and WISN, Milwaukee.

"Material will be from the first hand experience of Lt. Comdr. A. J. McKelway of the Navy's chaplain corps, who recently returned from 20 months of duty aboard the aircraft carrier USS ESSEX.

E. S. Root,
Captain, USN (Ret.), director"

Writing from the Service club, Fort Ord, Calif., Sgt. Ed Sorenson sends greetings.

"The weather down here is cold in the morning and hot in the afternoon," Pvt. John H. ("Jack") Messing, Jr., announces from Keesler field, Miss.

"The camp is a large one, and I do mean large.

"The food down here is good.

"I am glad to hear from some of the boys who write to the paper. Have read just about all of the paper, and many of my friends liked it, too.

Pfc. Joseph McGinnis of the U. S. Marine corps, who has been wounded in action twice, is on furlough for 30 days and is staying at 2713 N. Mango, Chicago.

"Just a few lines to let you know that I've received the paper up to the Jan. 11th issue and was glad to get them," comments Pfc. Wilbur Turner, APO 411, N. Y., "I sure enjoy the paper. How are the roads? Plenty of snow this year. It's all gone here now, and it was plenty miserable while it lasted. Had a letter from Ray Lasco. Sure would like to meet him over here."

DONALD JOHNSON GIVES FOLKS REAL EXCUSE FOR THEIR CELEBRATION

Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Johnson, Trevor road, were preparing to entertain a small group of relatives and intimate friends Friday evening in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary when their son, Pvt. Donald C. Johnson, who has been at Camp Joseph T. Robinson, Little Rock, Ark., walked in to make the affair a real "surprise party."

Pvt. Johnson had joined his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Larson, in Long Lake, and accompanied them to Antioch. Others present at the gathering included Mr. and Mrs. John Holzschuh and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lundgard.

Pvt. Johnson is due to report March 30 at Ft. George G. Meade, Md.

HELP SOUGHT IN BRINGING MAILING LIST UP-TO-DATE

The co-operation of relatives of men in the service is being sought by the Antioch American Legion post and the Antioch News in securing the latest addresses for all to whom the News is being sent.

A number of notices have been received from army and navy post offices calling attention to the fact that addresses on the present mailing list are no longer accurate.

Since periodicals do not receive the same preference in forwarding that is accorded to letters, this may mean that the serviceman is not going to receive the copy of the home town paper that has been sent to him.

"So far I have met only three people I knew before I came into the army, and none were from Antioch," Cpl. Francis H. Ward, New York APO 149, reports. "I came close to finding Bob Hunt, but he has moved on."

"We are having good weather, none of that zero and below kind. We had one snow storm, but now it's just like early summer."

"I am in hopes of spending next winter in Antioch, with all its snow and cold weather."

"Each edition I receive of the News seems to make the thousands of miles seem not so far, so you can see I like very much to get it."

FLEET POST OFFICE REQUESTS CARE IN ADDRESSING LETTERS

A drive to bring direct and speedy delivery of letters to men in the navy is being conducted by the Fleet post offices.

The Chicago Fleet post office states that it has received numerous complaints on long delays in the delivery of mail to navy overseas.

"It has been determined that this is mainly due to the improper addressing of mail," navy postal officers state, asking for the co-operation of the public in making sure that letters are properly addressed.

A cartoon on this subject, sent out by the public relations office of the Ninth Naval district, appears elsewhere in this issue of the News.

Edward Gilbert, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. James, Antioch, who has been on tour with the "Winged Victory" cast as a member of the band, is now band leader. The company is at present in the east.

"Here I am on the Island of Ohna, Hawaii," announces Henry D. Neuhaus. "After a few changes and traveling around, I finally got settled down to a (for at least a while) permanent address."

"I believe Mrs. Mutz gave you my address, according to a letter I received from John Mutz. They are the folks I used to work for before going to the army. A slight change has been made in my present address, and as much as I read the Antioch News, and I mean read every word of it, as soon as I get my hands on it, I expect some of the missing issues to catch up with me soon."

"At any rate, I want to thank you and everybody helping the boys, for only we know how good it is to hear from home, from Antioch and the folks from Antioch and vicinity who are doing so well in backing up the boys on the fronts."

Louis D. Bauer, S 2/c, Treasure Island, San Francisco, Calif., wants more and better bowling news—

"Well, I received another paper from back home and it's really tops reading about all the fellows from home and where they are."

"I have been receiving the paper right along and by the time the paper has all been read there's another one waiting. So thanks a million for sending it."

"Say, tell my Dad to try and put some bowling news in the paper so that I can see how all the hot shots are doing. I suppose they still have the pot games and maybe a match game now and then. Say, who's been winning?—Emil, or Ed Carney, or Bill Cooper, or the Editor of the News?"

"Tell the fellows back there I was thinking how lucky they are 'cause Dick Stroner is gone, and that will give you a chance. You can also tell Ken Ashe and John Waldweiler that when Dick and myself get back, we will take them on in a little match, but of course we want a few practice games."

"I guess I will have to shove off (on account of the lights go out in 2 min.)"

Mrs. Mollie Somerville returned Sunday morning from Kankakee, Ill., where she spent three weeks with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Somerville.

Miss Emily Bracken and Miss Carol White left Saturday for Albuquerque, New Mexico where they will visit friends and relatives.

The esteemed Chicago Tribune speaks its mind, editorially, on the curfew question—

"The Little Flower has enacted a special and unilateral amendment to Mr. Byrnes' austerity code. While the rest of the country is expected to get drunk by midnight or quit trying, the citizens of New York City, by special dispensation from their mayor, are to be allowed until 1 a. m. to reach that happy state."

"No one in the country whooped any louder for Byrnes' curfew when it was announced than did Mayor La Guardia. He immediately convened the New York council to amend city ordinances and fix midnight as the closing hour in drinking places.....

"Following his first burst of enthusiasm, Fiorella apparently heard from his constituents and perhaps from some of his campaign contributors as well. Night life is something more in New York than a mere form of diversion for the natives. It is a major industry.....

"And so the Little Flower discovered that the midnight curfew is putting an insufferable burden on the New York subway system and takes measures to relieve the traffic jam by postponing it until 1 a. m. It's very funny how these superpatriots, always so anxious to have somebody else suffer on the excuse that the sufferers would be made aware there is a war on, begin to cheat and squeal like a pig under a gate the moment someone infringes on their own selfish interests."

The interior of King's drug store is being remodeled and re-decorated. In place of the former high soda counter, a low, horseshoe-shaped counter has been constructed, extending into the area formerly occupied by booths. The newly-redecorated prescription department is located to the rear of the soda counter. Present plans call for the re-opening of the balcony, generally kept closed during the winter months.

Ted Poulos of the Sweet shop is busy this week arranging his Easter show window decorations.

Attracting attention—the gallery of cut-out mounted pictures of service men and women on display in the window of the Shell service station at Lake and Main streets. Frank Kennedy has been assembling and adding to the collection for months, and it is now reaching impressive proportions. The picture are full-length, several inches in height, and mounted on small pedestals.

The Seventh War loan, which will start May 14 and close June 30, should really have a fine response, judging by the time, which will allow for financial recuperation from taxes, including income, automobile licenses and other expenses that have been keeping the old pay envelope pretty well spoken for, these days.

More signs of spring—a model T touring car, apparently in perfect mechanical condition and with the side curtains up, percolating briskly down Main street Monday around 11:15 a. m.

If a man in service is discharged, the blue star remains on the service flag. If the service man is killed, the blue star remains but is covered with a slightly smaller gold star, leaving a blue border. The length of service, theater of war or rank or sex of the individual—these do not affect the service flag regulations, according to a War department statement of Feb. 12, 1943.

According to the department's ruling, stars are not to be removed from the service flag at any time. The service flag has a white ground with red border. There are only two types of stars, blue for those in service and gold for those who have been killed, whether in training or combat. If both gold and blue stars are on the flag, the gold should be at the top of the flag. All stars should be placed with the single point directed to the top of the flag. Stars for women in the service are the same as for men.

Comment by William F. Boni, Associated Press war correspondent, on returning home after 27 months overseas:

"Maybe, as some people insist, the folks back home don't know there's a war on. But I doubt that. It was the same way in Australia and again in England. The folks back home can't help knowing there's a war on."

"Practically all of them have somebody in it."

The 107 January deaths in Illinois highway accidents comprise the lowest total ever recorded for that month by the state division of highways. The division's figures go back to the year 1930. Last year 135 persons were killed in January. The 21 per cent decrease in fatalities shown for the month this year is regarded by highway officials as an encouraging start for the current season.

Reading around, we notice that the defunct Waukegan State bank still has about $10,000 in checks payable to depositors and creditors who have never claimed them. They are available in the office of E. C. Benson,

Chutist Finds Thrill in Leap

Tells of Thoughts and Fears Experienced in Making His First Jump.

CHICAGO.—In a letter written to Dr. and Mrs. Charles S. Phalen of Sparta, Wis., their son, Lieut. Charles Phalen, gives a realistic re-tell of the thoughts and apprehensions in the mind of a paratrooper as the moment nears for his first leap. The letter follows:

"I'm now a paratrooper — complete with boots, wings, and insignia. And a large hunk of humbleness, for I'm with the greatest guys in the world—the 101st air borne division.

"Parachute jumping is the biggest thrill you could imagine. On the ground you strap on your main chute, emergency chute, and equipment. You then line up in 'sticks,' which are units of men who jump together. I am the first man or No. 1 in my stick.

"Walking to the plane is difficult because of the tightness and weight of your paraphernalia. The stick enters in inverse order so that you find yourself in the seat next to the door.

Pays to Be Smart.

"With a roar and a few bumps you are in the air. You glance out the door and everything is spread out far below you. The noise precludes casual conversation.

"You have been smart and put your cigarettes on top of your reserve, so you pass the pack down the line. Everyone lights up and smokes automatically and with no discernible enjoyment, puffing very fast.

"Then the red light by the door flicks on and the butterflies start fluttering down deep in your stomach. Two minutes to go!

"You shout 'Stand up!' and they all rise. 'Hook up!' and everyone hooks his static line over the anchor wire which runs along the ceiling of the plane. (The static line pulls the chute open and then snaps—remaining attached to the plane.)

"Check your equipment! — and despite the fact you've gone over it a dozen times you check it again.

"Sound off for equipment check! They start 'No. 18 O. K.' 'No. 17 O. K.' and so on down the line.

"Everybody O.K.?"

"O. K.!" they roar back, for the louder you yell, the less the little butterflies are noticed.

"Close up and stand in the door! —and there you are! No. 1 man. Your hands are on the sides of the door, your face is in the slipstream, your feet are braced, the roar is overwhelming, and there's only space beneath you.

Waiting for the Signal.

"The seconds slip by. The butterflies are back in full force, but you are too tensed up, waiting for the signal, to pay much attention to them.

"The green light flashes and you're gone. A terrific rush of wind, the world revolves once, a terrific jerk—and suddenly everything is deathly quiet.

"You shove your helmet back from over your eyes and look up to see the most beautiful sight you'll ever see. Your canopy is open.

"Next you check the ground to catch the direction of drift, and do a body turn so that you face in the same direction. At first you seem to be floating lazily but soon that ground begins to rush up mighty fast.

"Fifty feet. Twenty-five feet. Knees flexed, feet clamped together. And then you hit, tumble, and you're down! You've been jarred up harder on a football field.

"That's all there is to jumping. The whole thing boils down to whether you can step up to that door and go out."

Wounded Are Treated in Prefabricated Hospital

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF. — A pre-fabricated hospital, capable of handling more than 2,000 patients at one time, is now facilitating the handling of all wounded naval personnel from the Pacific, the 12th naval district disclosed recently.

Originally designed for an unspecified Pacific area, the hospital, comprising more than three miles of buildings, was set up in McLaren park when special requirements caused a change in plans.

Hundreds of carloads of prefabricated material were shipped in, then put together by local contractors. The T-shaped hospital units have a steel framework firmly embedded in concrete foundations.

Main purpose of the hospital, according to Navy Capt. Gerald W. Smith, is to give wounded men immediate treatment upon arrival, then funnel them out within a few days to the navy hospital nearest their homes or to specialized institutions.

Arab Pickets Using Slogans From Bible

JERUSALEM. — Arab pickets used Christian Biblical slogans in a strike against an American missionary society.

They want better hours, better pay, one day off a week and annual vacations.

Arab unions, which are political enemies of the Jewish unions, are providing strike breakers.

Staple Food

One of the staple foods of South Americans is rice, served in a multitude of forms. In Mexico and Guatemala it appears on the table fried to a rich brown. In Honduras, it is served as que adilla de arroz or cakes, and in Peru it is the usual accompaniment of roast duck. Everywhere in the other American republics it is a concomitant of the rich, succulent, red kidney beans which constitute another staple kitchen item south of the border.

Game Rooms

The success which has been achieved in establishing game rooms and hobby rooms in basements with the aid of light-reflecting paint and colorful furniture has led to the more extended use of suitable basements for living quarters as another means of meeting the wartime exigency in housing. In doing such jobs, particular care should be taken to seal out dampness.
